Description
If you have an orphan in your repo and attempt to list it and then remove it and both will fail. For example if testing against the in-development puppet conversion to mongoengine then you can run the following commands to cause these failures. <pre>pulp-admin login -u admin -p admin pulp-admin puppet repo create --repo-id=forge --feed=http://forge.puppetlabs.com --queries torssh pulp-admin puppet repo sync run --repo-id forge pulp-admin puppet repo remove --repo-id forge --str-eq="name=torssh" pulp-admin orphan list pulp-admin orphan remove --all</pre> I expect 1 puppet orphan to be shown when the list occurs and for the remove to work correctly.

I'm removing the unblocking relationship because the command that fails (see below) gives an error but accomplishes the unit removal from the repo as needed. This is the command that gives a failure although the unit does get removed.

```
pulp-admin puppet repo remove --repo-id forge --str-eq="name=torssh"
```
