I don't think there will be a quickstart in the core docs. I only think they should live in the docs of each plugin. Currently they are being added to both pulp_example and pulp_file. With those efforts completing today I think that can be closed somehow.

- Subject changed from Create a quickstart document in the root of the docs. to Create a quickstart docs in the plugin repos

- Description updated

Repurposing this ticket to be for documenting the pulp_file and pulp_example plugins with quickstart guides. Once we have more of an API or CLI that users can use we can put some quickstart info there perhaps.
