Description

Description of problem:

If you register a consumer to a server and then change the server in consumer.conf and restart the agent, pulp-consumer status shows that it is registered to the new server when actually it is not.

Version-Release number of selected component (if applicable):

[root@rhel5-pulp ~]# rpm -q pulp-consumer-client
pulp-consumer-client-2.2.0-0.32.beta.el5
[root@rhel5-pulp ~]#

How reproducible:

Steps to Reproduce:

1. Register a consumer to server A
2. Edit consumer.conf and change the server to Server B
3. Restart pulp-agent
4. Run pulp-consumer status
5. See that the message says it is registered to Server B

But if you check on server B you can see that it is not.

Actual results:

History

#1 - 02/28/2015 10:58 PM - cduryee

This is still the case as of pulp 2.4.3.

$ pulp-consumer status

This consumer is registered to the server [pulp.example.com] with the ID [testconsumer].

<edit /etc/pulp/consumer/consumer.conf to point to new-hostname.example.com>
<restart goferd>

$ pulp-consumer status

This consumer is registered to the server [new-hostname.example.com] with the ID [testconsumer].

Maybe the hostname could be read from the issuer field in /etc/pki/pulp/consumer/consumer-cert.pem?
