Description Once core makes it possible for the content app to serve content from a RepositoryVersion by associating it with a Distribution (story "4745" https://pulp.plan.io/issues/4745) we should remove Publications from pulp_ansible entirely. The docs should also be updated to have users use the auto-distribution feature for repository to make it easier for them. Also the users should be told they can point a Distribution at a RepositoryVersion to serve their content.
