Description

Description of problem:
--help is taken like a consumer ID

Version-Release number of selected component (if applicable):

```
rpm -qa | grep pulp-server

pulp-server-2.4.1-0.4.beta.fc20.noarch

How reproducible:
always

Steps to Reproduce:

```
pulp-consumer status

This consumer is not currently registered.

pulp-consumer -u admin register --consumer-id --help
```

Enter password:
Consumer [--help] successfully registered

```
pulp-consumer status

This consumer is registered to the server
[localhost] with the ID [--help].

History

#1 - 02/28/2015 11:16 PM - igulina@redhat.com

In fact, any next string after --consumer-id is taken as consumer-id value.

pulp-consumer -u admin -p admin register --help

Command: register

Description: registers this consumer to the Pulp server

Available Arguments:

--consumer-id - (required) uniquely identifies the consumer; only alphanumeric, ., -, and _ allowed
--display-name - user-readable display name for the consumer
--description  - user-readable description for the consumer
--note        - adds/updates/deletes key-value pairs to pragmatically identify the repository; pairs must be separated by an equal sign (e.g. key=value); multiple notes can be added by specifying this option multiple times; notes are deleted by specifying "" as the value

```
pulp-consumer -u admin -p admin register --consumer-id --note

Consumer [--note] successfully registered
