Description

Description of problem:
Pulp confuses the words authentication and authorization[0]. This leads to confusion with our users[1].

Version-Release number of selected component (if applicable):
2.4.0-1

How reproducible:
Every time.

Steps to Reproduce:
1. Attempt to perform an action that your user is not authorized to perform.

Actual results:
Observe that the raised error is about authentication.

Expected results:
The raised error should be about authorization.

observed that in pulp 2.4.4 it is about authentication like in https://bugzilla.redhat.com/show_bug.cgi?id=1081534#c11

rpm -qa pulp-server
```

pulp-server-2.6.0-0.2.beta.el6.noarch

pulp-consumer -u consumer-admin register --consumer-id test04

Enter password:

Permission denied: user consumer-admin cannot perform CREATE.
