| Description | |
| Going from pulp-rpm 3.6.0 to pulp-rpm 3.7.0 the RpmCopyApi.create changed to RpmCopyApi.copy_content I've gone over the changelogs and can see no reference to this change. | |

Thank you for filing this bug. I looked into and the RpmCopyApi.create endpoint was erroneously created when we upgraded from openapi v2 to openapi v3 in 3.6. We fixed this in #7341 which shipped in 3.7 and has caused this problem.

We're testing more using the bindings which should catch these things. I've also filed an issue (#7825) to see if we can run a check to prevent this from happening again.
